Margaret's email was rather brief, so I beefed it up. I sent her an amended version to verify she agrees with this language.

The Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) is delegated the responsibility for receipt of excess emissions reports in Texas. Valero submitted its excess emissions report to the State's Environmental Electronic Reporting System (STEERS) and later submitted an amended report showing the revised emissions estimates. STEERS excess emissions reports are not submitted to EPA. This question would more appropriately be answered by TCEQ.

Question #9.b & c

Let me know how you want to proceed,

Bryant

This Is one of the best written pieces I've read.

No changes (except....response 9.b. Of the September 10 meeting seems a bit vague...on purpose?)
